Programme Description

Organisations have made significant investments in employee wellbeing, leadership and workplace transformation. Yet despite these efforts, many employees continue to experience a disconnect between what organisations aspire to achieve and what is happening on the ground.

The 2026 Malaysia People@Work® Index Report uncovers seven critical workplace paradoxes that challenge conventional assumptions about the state of work in Malaysia. Drawing on national workforce data, the report provides evidence-based insights into the realities shaping employee experience and organisational performance.

Hosted by O-Psych in partnership with ICDM, this exclusive launch brings together board directors, CEOs, CHROs and senior leaders to explore the report's findings and consider what they mean for leadership, governance and the future of work.

The launch will include the official unveiling of the 2026 Malaysia People@Work® Index Report, a presentation of the national findings by the report authors, followed by a panel conversation featuring distinguished leaders from business, policy and industry as they discuss how organisations can bridge the gap between intention and impact.

Join us for this exclusive launch as we unpack the realities behind today's workplace and the leadership actions needed to build healthier, higher-performing and more sustainable organisations.
